OFFICIAL PROGRAMME 23 NOVEMBER 1970

Vol 2 No 13

Chairman says 'This is a pleasure and an honour'

Not only is it a pleasure, but an honour to entertain the Australian National football team at Kenilworth Road tonight. It is always a pleasure to meet our cousins from 'Down Under', particularly when there is friendly rivalry on the playing field.

Personally, I am delighted, because of my close associations with Australia through business and sporting activities, that they are here.

First time on English soil

An honour, this certainly is for Luton, because it is the first time that these tourists have played on English soil.

For many years, soccer in Australia has been the Cinderella winter ball game, but it is making rapid strides towards gaining its rightful position and it was only a play-off against Israel that kept them out of the World Cup finals in Mexico.

In Australia, you hear the word 'football' mentioned as often as you do in this country but, unfortunately, for we soccer fans, they are not referring to soccer, but to Australian rules football which has as fanatical a following as does our game in this country.

Soccer is expected to 'emerge' soon

Although soccer is not the prime winter game at the moment, there are many people who believe that it will not be long before it emerges as such 'Down Under'.

This is partly because soccer is the principal winter ball game in most countries and also partly because of the influx into Australia of British and European emigrants who regard our brand of football as their major sport.

Players from England are helping

Over there, there are many former English League players who are continuing to play, and one of the best known players

A few short years ago when times were really hard, it would have been inconceivable that the Town would have met so many teams from overseas as they have since the end of last season.

First, was the highly successful Spanish tour in May, followed by a flying visit to Belgium immediately before this season began, and also the visit of a Dutch team to Kenilworth road.

Now, we welcome the Australian National XI who come with a wonderfully successful list of results behind them on the first part of their world tour.

Serious build-up to World Cup

This is primarily intended as a serious and thorough build-up to the eliminating series for the World Cup, finals of which are to be held in Munich in 1974.

So far as association football is concerned, Australia is a young country, but that they are learning fast is proved by the formidable list of victories they have secured over other national teams on their own grounds and in their own conditions, during the last few weeks.

FROM THE CHAIRMAN

at one time, was Jimmy Adam, the former Town winger, who is now back in this country.

Over the last two years, I have discussed with Australian officials the possibility of taking a Luton Town team there and I hope that it will not be long before such a tour takes place.

So far, the Australians have had a highly successful world tour and I wish them all the best in the future. Meanwhile, we look forward to an entertaining night's football.

COVER PICTURE

Former Luton goalkeeper, Allan Ross, who has carved out a successful career for himself with Carlisle United, safely gathers the ball during one of the Town's many raids last Saturday.

Waiting for a possible mistake is Jimmy Ryan who is being shielded by Joe Davis.

Vital promotion clash due at Cardiff

Through the necessity to get ahead with the production of this programme because of the shortage of time at our disposal, it is impossible for me to make any comment on last Saturday's clash with Portsmouth — these notes were written before it began.

However, if the result were right, then there should be tremendous interest in the meeting with Cardiff City at Ninian Park next Saturday which will be absolutely vital in the battle for promotion.

FROM BOB'S OFFICE

At the risk of being repetitive, I must say that this is a big occasion in the history of our club in that we are meeting a team from Australia playing its first ever game in this country.

Appropriately, we are opening for the first time our new, luxurious boardroom suite in which the tourists' officials and local dignitaries will be entertained after the match.

This has been named the Kenilworth Suite and its function will not be solely confined to match days. Indeed, it has been built with a dual purpose in mind and, during the week, will serve as a useful adjunct for members of the Hatters' Club and will also be available for use by small, private parties.

Still selling season tickets

Although the season is now well advanced there is still a demand for season tickets, as is proved by the fact that we sold five last Saturday week.

Price of these has been lowered, of course, and they are now available at £9 9s (centre stand) and £7 15s (wing stand).

In this respect it should be pointed out that admission to reserve team games is free and also that possession of a season ticket gives the holder a guarantee of a seat should there be a home FA Cup tie.

And those who missed out over the League Cup game with Arsenal will realise this only too vividly.

When Watford tickets go on sale

Our match at Watford on 12 December will not be an all-ticket affair and our allocation of 500 stand seats at 12s each will go on sale at 9 am on 1 December. Simultaneously Watford will put their share on sale.

From the look of things, there will be a complete sell-out of the special train for Cardiff next Saturday and supporters should note that at least one train will be run to Watford because of the impossibility of hiring coaches for this particular trip.

Return fair is 8s and bookings are now being taken at the ticket office, 66 Kenilworth Road.

The Reserves' match at Southend last Wednesday was called off because of the waterlogged state of the pitch there and has yet to be re-arranged.

Australians look ahead with determination to the 1974 World Cup eliminators

Nineteen players and six officials comprise the party which the Australian Soccer Federation has sent on the first world tour ever attempted by them.

It was designed to foster relations with overseas Football Associations, as well as being the first step in preparation for the next World Cup elimination series.

Israel's success in gaining a draw with Italy in the World Cup finals in Mexico, provided the spur needed to send an Australian soccer team on such a tour.

Were travel weary in vital match

An own goal conceded by the travel-weary Australians in the first qualifying match in Tel Aviv provided the break needed for Israel to win 1-0. The return in Sydney was drawn 1-1.

So, the Australian Soccer Federation decided to send a young team on tour in the hope that the experience gained will be a crucial factor in reaching the 1974 finals in Germany.

Australia began to emerge from not so splendid isolation in 1965 when the national team figured in two draws with Chelsea. Then, followed 6-1 and 3-1 defeats at the hands of North Korea.

North Korea went on to shock the world

These were in the World Cup qualifiers in Cambodia, but North Korea went on to shock the world in the 1966 finals.

From this point, the graph of Australia's international record has taken a sharp rise. Johnny Warren's team won a big international tournament in Saigon in 1967 and returned from a tour of Asia with ten victories in a row.

This was followed by a 3-1 success over Japan in Melbourne in 1968 and one by 1-0 over the Greek World Cup team a year later.

Achieved another form upset

A further form upset was achieved by Australia when they won a World Cup eliminator against Japan and South Korea in Seoul in 1969 and then went to Mozambique and beat Rhodesia.

However, the strain of travelling around the world proved to be too much and they toppled at the last hurdle against Israel.

This was no disgrace as Israel went to Mexico and figured in draws in their group with Italy and Sweden.

Gained revenge over Israel recently

Since then, on the present tour, Australia have gained revenge by scoring the only goal against Israel in Tel Aviv and that must have increased their determination to do well in the next World Cup.

All the time, their soccer is becoming stronger and their international record since 1967 is a proud one, comprising 17 wins, 7 draws and only 3 defeats.

Modern brand of soccer played

New coach, Zvonimir Rasic, can be relied upon to develop a team that will play a modern brand of soccer, coupled with the traditional Australian fighting spirit.

Migrants have been going to Australia from all parts of the world and their influence can be seen in such players as Roger Romanowicz, Billy Vojtec, Manfred Schaefer and John Perin.

Each arrived from Europe as small boys and think of themselves purely and simply as Australians.

Pen portraits (continued from page 13)

GEORGE BLUES (NSW). Age 27. Won a gold medal as the outstanding player in NSW during 1970. A splendid ball player, he is a reminder that orthodox wing play is far from dead. Played First Division in Scotland for Falkirk before having four seasons in South Africa with Durban City. Was rated as South Africa's top winger before coming to Australia midway through 1969 to play for Apia in Sydney. Jersey No 9.

DAVID KEDDIE (NSW). Age 25. Having his first taste of international soccer. He came to Australia from Scotland midway through 1967 and has averaged just on a goal a match for Hakoah in Sydney club matches this season. Is particularly dangerous in the air. Jersey No 15.

JOHN DOYLE (NSW). Age 24. Can play as a striking forward or occupy a mid-field role. A big, strong player who has the fire of his Irish ancestors. Was a surprise choice to play for Australia for the first time on the tour, but should improve as a result. Played for Adamstown Rosebuds before transferring to South Sydney this year. Jersey No 6.

MIKE DENTON (NSW). Age 24. A little chap who looks anything but a deadly punisher of defensive errors. Averaged just over a goal a match in two seasons since emigrating from England and scored New South Wales's only goal in their two matches against Manchester City. Plays for St George. Jersey No 10.

The 19 players who have made the world tour such a success for the Australians

Here are pen portraits of 19 players who are on the world tour with the Australian party.

GOALKEEPERS

JACK REILLY (Victoria). Age 26 and Vice Captain. Tall, dark haired, he is making the tour as Australia's No 1 goalie for the first time. Played in Scotland for Hibernian before having a couple of seasons in America for Washington Whips. Went to Vietnam with the Australian team earlier in the year, but did not play in a match. Club is Juventus in Melbourne. Jersey No 1.

ROGER ROMANOWICZ (South Australia). Age 23. Has fought his way back into favour with the Australian selectors after being discarded following the 1967 tour of Asia. As his name would indicate, he is of Russian descent and came to Australia as a baby. Can be spectacular but brave and safe. Plays for Polonia in Adelaide. Jersey No 22.

DEFENDERS

MANFRED SCHAEFER (NSW). Aged 27. A sturdily built player who is a tremendous tackler and a key man in defence. Has played for Australia on twenty-five occasions since winning his first cap on the 1967 tour of Asia. Born in Germany, but came to Australia as a boy of 10. One of the heroes in last year's World Cup qualifying matches. Rarely has a poor game and is known to the other players as 'The Robot' because he is so consistent. Plays for St George Club (Sydney). Jersey No 2.

DENNIS YAAGER (NSW). Age 23. Can play as a modern, all-purpose defender. An Australian-born player who spent two years in England as a teenager with Everton. A knee injury cost him a place in Australia's World Cup team last year. Won his first international cap in the Vietnam tournament this year and proved intelligent in his positioning. Plays for Hakoah in Sydney. Jersey No 5.

PETER WILSON (NSW). Age 23. Looks like a typical 'surfie' from one of the Australian beaches with his long, blond hair. Fast and tough as he breaks up opposing attacks in his role as a stopper. Was born in England and plays for the South Coast club in NSW. A member of the Australian team which won the Vietnam tournament. Jersey No 3.

JOHN ROCHE (NSW). Aged 21. Australian born. Has enjoyed a meteoric rise to wear Australia's green and gold for the first time. Only a year ago, he was playing in the obscurity of Sydney's Second Division. Enormously quick, he is one of Australia's hopes for the 1974 World Cup. Plays for Marconi, Sydney. Jersey No 14.

COLLIN CURRAN (Northern NSW). Age 22. Full-back. Another young player who is representing Australia for the first time. At the age of 18 he had a year as an apprentice professional with Manchester United under the sponsorship of his present club, Adamstown Rosebuds, Newcastle (NSW). Was born in Australia. Makes up for his lack of size with plenty of courage. Jersey No 17.

SANDY IRVINE (Victoria). Age 21. Can play as a full-back or stopper. A fiery player who never gives up fighting for the ball. Came from Scotland in 1969 after playing junior football in Aberdeen and proved a big success when he went to Vietnam. Plays for Juventus club in Melbourne. Jersey No 4.

HARRY WILLIAMS

(NSW). Age 19. An Aboriginal youngster who has quickly developed into an excellent prospect. Picked to play for his country after only six First Division matches for St George. He has speed and a flair for running up the field. Proved a flop as a winger earlier in the year, but has never looked back since being switched to full-back. Jersey No 18.

MIDFIELD PLAYERS

RAY RICHARDS (NSW). Age 27. Has enjoyed a new lease of life since dropping back from the forward line to fill an industrious role in the mid-field. Disappeared from the international scene after failing as a forward on the tour of Asia. Played for a while in Queensland after emigrating from England and now is with Marconi, Sydney. Jersey No 12.

JOHN WARREN (NSW). Age 27. Captain of Australia since 1967. A tirelessly active player who has thirty-one international caps to his credit. Two years ago he gained an English FA coaching certificate. Warren provides a classical example that the Australian born player can reach world class if he is given a chance. Made his international debut in the World Cup qualifying matches against North Korea in 1965. He makes regular television appearances and writes a soccer column in the Sydney Sun. Plays for St George. Jersey No 8.

JIM MACKAY (Victoria). Age 26. Was the star of the victory in Vietnam. This was his international debut. A tireless worker who will be toiling long after most players have found themselves easing up. Played for Airdrieonians in Scotland before emigrating in 1965. Plays for Croatia, Melbourne. Jersey No 7.

JOHN PERIN (South Australia). Age 23. Quick, incisive and an able ball player who can be played in mid-field or defence. A member of Australia's World Cup team in 1969, he has four international caps to his credit. Was born in Italy, but came to Australia as a small boy. Plays for Juventus (Adelaide), another big hope for the 1974 World Cup. Jersey No 16.

BILLY VOJTEC (Victoria). Age 26. Left-winger. Before the tour, had appeared in twenty-five successive internationals for Australia – but several of them were only for half a game. Though small and slight, his control and swerve make him dangerous. First capped for Australia in 1967 when he sparked Australia's 3-2 win over South Korea in the final. Came to Australia from Yugoslavia when only a baby. Plays for Croatia. Jersey No 13.

Forwards

ADRIAN ALSTON (NSW). Age 21. Tall and talented, he emigrated from England two years ago. A member of Australia's World Cup team in 1969 and scorer of the deciding goal when Australia beat Vietnam 1-0 in the Saigon tournament final this year. He has a power shot. Made his international debut against Greece in 1969. Plays for St George. Jersey No 11.

SKILLED CRAFTSMAN,

plus sizable extras such as nightshift and overtime premiums.

Look at the facilities we offer—not just for soccer players but for all kinds of sports, hobbies and recreational activities.

Promotion too is easier with Vauxhall than it is in the Football League because we promote our own people first and run training schemes to help them step up into better jobs.

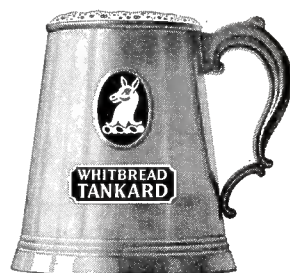

So don't just stand on the touchline, get into the game... kick off with a phone call to Ted Taylor at Luton 21122 or post this coupon today.
